

May 2017

I cannot believe we have only 16 days left of school this year! I have so enjoyed having you kiddo in class and the opportunity to meet all of you! All of you will be missed! Please wave to us in the hall next year as you move onto your new classroom!

We are going to finish out the year with a BANG! Space, caterpillars, and farm will keep us busy and entertained as we wind down our amazing year. Making a small solar system, patterning caterpillars, and tasting food from the farm will be some of the many activities we will complete.

Be on the look out for one final opportunity to sign up for supplies for the class, namely for the two weeks of farm study. We will be closely tying nutrition into this theme by having the opportunity to taste various items made on the farm. One thing we are in need of would be GLASS BABY FOOD JARS! We need at total of 30 jars, one for each child. If you or others you know have some, please bring them in, cleaned, for a project!

Also, more details will come regarding the last day of school, May 25th. We will be having a celebration but I do not have all the details worked out yet. I will send a note home regarding the events on this day.

One other item, I will be out of state for a family event May 8-10. Please talk with Amanda or Riley regarding any concerns that may arise during this time. I will also have my email available so you can contact me through that media if you would like.

As the weather allows, and safety of the playground allows, we will try to go outside. Please send your child with a coat or jacket each day, and as we are now having more consistent warmer weather, please put sunscreen on your child. Our regulations prevent us from lotioning them up so we need you to do that prior to school.

Special Announcements

This Month's Themes:

May 1: Space...the final frontier
 May 8: Eric Carle's Hungry Caterpillar
 May 15: Old MacDonald's Farm
 May 22: Old MacDonald's Farm

Smith's grocery also provides support to CDC...just see Shannon for how to use your rewards card to give back to CDC.

Home Activities

Go Outside! Get out and experience the wonderful Wyoming weather (when it's not snowing!). Spring is a great time to talk about plants, smells, weather, etc! It is also a great time to work on balance and coordination by playing at your local playground!

After play, have your child help you clean up their toys-help teach responsibility!
